Goal

Build an entirely remote, learner focused, non-credit program, that provides support and practical skills to launch a career in the IT industry.

Stackable Credentials

“Short-term credentials are acting as an on-ramp to a degree for many students in community colleges.”

<https://www.insidehighered.com/opinion/blogs/beyond-transfer/2023/08/03/stacking-certificates-and-degrees-lessons-learned-so-far#:~:text=Stackable%20credential%20pathways%20allow%20individuals,as%20well%20as%20course%E2%80%94requirements>

“Low-income certificate-earners earned multiple credentials (i.e., stacked credentials) and went on to earn longer-term credentials (i.e., stacked vertically) at higher rates than middle- and high-income certificate-earners.”

LESSONS LEARNED

- Work Based Learning in Colorado for adult learners is difficult in the IT industry.
- Adult learners lead busy lives. Flexible training opportunities address the concerns around the accessibility of IT skills training.
- Having one primary point-of-contact alleviates the added stress of having to talk to multiple people for information/questions.
- Flexibility is key when working with students in this non-credit, remote space (appointment availability, scheduling student group sessions, etc.)
- Continuous evaluation of program processes is beneficial to program administrators and program participants.
